Gov. Brumbaugh and Party of 150 Coming Tomorrow

Reservations For Entire Party Has Been Made at The Dimeling--Will Arrive
Here About 6 O'clock P. M.

GOVERNOR WILL SPEAK AT THE PARK

There will be approximately 150 people in the Governor's party that will reach here tomorrow evening about six o'clock. Reservations have been made in the Dimeling hotel for the party and we are pleased to be able to give a list of the names of those making up the party. The party will be met at Wallacetown by a large committee of Clearfield citizens in autos and policed to Clearfield, where four bands, every band in town, and the whole town will turn out to greet them. The public reception will be at the Fair grounds at eight o'clock where the Governor will be introduced by Judge Bell.

There will be absolutely no political significance attached to the Governor's visit and no one will go to the park expecting to hear a political speech. All will turn out, however, to see the Governor of this great commonwealth and hear him speak. Governor Brumbaugh has a national reputation for public speaking of common sense variety. He is not what one could term an orator but his wonderful experience and wide training makes him a valuable speaker.

Below is a list of the people who will visit Clearfield with the Governor:

Fair Grounds Have Been Transform- ed Into Beauty Spot--New Buildings Erected For The Big Fair Opening

QUEBEC BRIDGE OVER ST. LAWRENCE RIVER FALLS KILLING 25

Repeats Trick of 1907 When
It Crashed Into River During Its Building.

This Time a Commission of German
Canadian and American Engineers
Made Specifications but they fail to Stand the Strain.

Quebec, Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—Twenty-five men were plunged to their deaths when the central span of the $17,000 Cantilever-Quebec bridge over the St. Lawrence river today just as it was being placed into position completed one of the greatest engineering feats of the world. Thousands of spectators had gathered to witness the completion of the bridge, including cabinet and parliament members. First reports were that the entire ninety men who were on the bridge had perished. The St. Lawrence Bridge Company, contractors announced, however, that only twenty-five had been killed. Only five or six survivors who were down have been picked up.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—The central span of the Quebec bridge under construction for many years and which will link the Canadian transcontinental railway system from Halifax to Vancouver fell as it was being placed in position. An estimator in the employ of the engineering company in charge this afternoon stated that the death toll would total 25. The span which weighs 5000 tons when being hoisted by special apparatus began toppling on its side and fell 15 feet in the river. The placing of the span is one of the engineering feats of the world and a commission representing Great Britain, Germany and the United States worked out the plans. In 1907 seventy were killed when a portion of the structure collapsed. Ninety men were on the bridge when the northern bender gave way. Some jacks held a few seconds and then the span gave way splashing into the channel. As the St. Lawrence river is but 200 feet wide at this point it will block and impede the traffic. Arrangements have been made to send divers down to ascertain if it will be possible to raise the span and also to find if the channel has been blocked.

Plans For Big Strike In N. Y. Under Way

tel with Union Leaders

New York, Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—The attempt of New York Traction company to cut unionism is in direct opposition to the eight hour day recently passed by congress to settle the railroad strike, a statement by the Amalgamated Association of Carmen charges today. "Capital does not intend putting the legislative measure on the statute books" the statement declares. "The New York Traction company by organized capital has the same financial backing as the railroads of the country. The attempt to cut unionism is the first step in a great fight against organized labor." Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of labor was closeted in his room at the Continental hotel today with union leaders. Plans for a general sympathy strike which would call 800,000 workers and paralyze this city was still under discussion.

KENTUCKY STATE FAIR OPENS.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 11.—The annual Kentucky State Fair was opened here this morning for a week's engagement. The management has been working hard to make the exhibits of more than ordinary interest this year and the result is one of the largest and most varied displays of the state's products ever shown.

FALL FESTIVAL IN SALT LAKE CITY

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 11.—The week of Salt Lake City's annual fall festival opened today under most favorable conditions. All trains arriving Sunday night and this morning brought many visitors. The week's program provides for a constant succession of parades, pageants, athletic events, band concerts and various other forms of entertainment.

REDISTRIBUTION OF MEXICAN LAND

New London, Conn., Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—Redistribution of land throughout Mexico was the subject discussed by the Mexican-American commission today. The Carranza envoy said that this plan would discourage bandits and would require less military protection along the border.

Driveways Changed and so Many Alterations Made That You Will Not Know The Place

GROUND WILL BE BRILLIANTLY ILLUMINATED AT NIGHT

Clearfield's big County Fair opens tomorrow with a grand flourish and visitors to the fair grounds who remember the dilapidated and unkempt condition of the ground for the past ten or twelve years will be more than agreeably surprised at the marvelous transformation worked by the busy gang of men employed there since the park was taken over by its present owners some three or four weeks ago. The committee in charge has left nothing undone and spared no expense to get the grounds in shape for this exhibition and the success of their efforts will be appreciated by all who attend the fair.

The work of transformation and regeneration starts at the main entrance and extends to the farthest nook and corner of the immense grove flanking the race track. The entrance has been changed, the ticket office being located on the east side of the driveway and as a result there of the entrance for pedestrians will be on that side of Park street instead of the west side as heretofore. This was a much needed change and relieves the possibility of accident, as those entering the park will continue around on the footwalk paralleling the track fence and as the driveway has been moved to the west side of the entrance there will be no occasion for crossing the driveway and the usual congestion and danger at the entrance will be avoided.

The driveway has been extended around through the park, entering the grove above the present white house or exhibition building and extending down opposite the grand stand and from thence out through the section in the rear devoted to the animal exhibits into McBride street and thence to Turnpike avenue. Generally will be brilliantly lighted by electricity and the park will present a pleasing sight at night.

The present exhibition building will be utilized for the display of fruits, etc., and the secretary is authority for the statement that it will be the finest display ever shown here.

In the rear of this exhibition building will be staged the exhibits or displays of Clearfield manufacturers and business men. On account of the shortness of time it was impossible to erect proper buildings to house these displays but large tents have been supplied by the management and some forty or fifty of these tents will line this exhibition midway.

The usual refreshment stands and many concessions and attractions will dot the grounds from the dancing pavilion to the bleachers and grand stand both of which have been greatly improved, renovated and made safe.

The large space under the grand stand has been cleaned up and put in shape to handle either the overflow of fruits and small manufacture exhibits or amusement concessions.

A back stop has been erected behind the home plate at the baseball grounds and an open air stage 22x30 has been erected on the green in front of the grand stand where the performing dogs, ponies, monkeys, etc., will perform and from which all announcements will be made.

In the grove along the west side fence a row of exhibition pens for chickens, swine, sheep and pets has been provided while in the rear paralleling the driveway near the McBride street exit four large buildings for the housing and exhibition of horses, cattle, etc., have been erected. These buildings have been erected to conform to the general plan of the improved park and are located in the form of a four pointed star. These main buildings are one for horses, which is 24x90 feet in size, and three for cattle and other animals, each 20x90 feet. They all contain two rows of stalls or pens with entry way between. The plan also provides for four smaller buildings located in same manner as the larger ones and of the same style, each to be 16x48 feet in size.

A water line has been laid to the barns and a large watering trough will be located at the centre of this plot.

The number of horses, cattle and other animals already listed for exhibition has greatly exceeded the expectations of the management and made necessary the employment of more than 50 men practically night and day the past three weeks to get these buildings in shape, but the management was equal to the occasion and this feature of the fair will amply repay the visitor for the time taken in looking it over.

The park has been generally cleaned up and renovated. Stones and stumps have been removed, many trees cut out of the beautiful grove, in fact the whole place has been transformed already into what we long have claimed it to be—the prettiest fair grounds in Central Pennsylvania and the work has just begun.

It was the intention of the management to pipe drinking water throughout the grounds but it was found impossible to do this at this time and the huge spring was thoroughly cleaned out and a pump placed therein and their will be no lack of good pure, wholesome drinking water.

Those in charge have labored hard to get everything in readiness for this opening exhibition. They have done remarkably well under the circumstances and will give their patrons a good clean program of amusements and it is up to our people as loyal Clearfielders to give them every support, not only in the way of attendance, but in encouragement, and endorsement in their every effort to make Clearfield's big County Fair what it should be—the best county fair in this section. They will do it too, with your help.

We, therefore, call upon you to give us any information which you may have that amounts to proof or which lead to proof, directly or indirectly, of any goods that have been paid for during the term of the present Commissioners, and not received by the county; or any goods that have been paid for above the market price or for more than they could be purchased for with due diligence and care; or paid to any merchant or dealer or other persons having dealings with the county who pay for any favors received from the county or whom the county pays for favors or who gets any kick-off, draw back, percentage or salary or other unfair consideration from the county. It is the sworn duty of the Commissioners to protect the taxpayers of Clearfield county, and we can do so much better advantage with the cooperation of every citizen who turns in any wrong doing than in any other way.

SHOULD BALDHEADED BARBERS SELL CURE FOR BALDNESS?

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—Why should a baldheaded barber attempt to induce a baldheaded customer to use a sure cure for baldness?

All the baldheaded barbers in Illinois, including those with tapered and switches will be called upon to answer. Some of the better known baldheaded customers also will be asked in to answer.

EMPLOYING PRINTERS MEET.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 9.—Representing the printing industry of the entire country, delegates to the annual convention of the United Typographical Union of America are assembling in Atlantic City today. The high cost and scarcity of paper is the big problem to receive the attention of the association at its business sessions, beginning Monday. Aside from the paper question, the printers are inclined to take a rosier view of the conditions in general in their trade. Business is good, they say, and labor troubles are scarce.

They go to California by the way of the Panama Canal which gives opportunity for the great "boat scene" which has been pronounced as the most elaborate ship scene ever offered to the public. The last act of the play takes place on the famous "Joy Zone" at the exposition where Dolly wins the prize and is awarded the ten thousand dollars.

ENLIST!

In former wars in which the United States has been engaged, its armies have been trained after war was declared, and in the presence of the enemy. This has always proved expensive and in the future would likely be disastrous. It is to guard against such a condition that the government makes its appeal to young men of patriotism to enlist in the National guard, join the troops at the border, and get the benefit of the training there being given. A young man who now learns the work of a soldier multiplies many fold his usefulness should war come in the future.

There are in this country hundreds of men who would have rushed to the colors had there been actual war, but who have not yet realized that the present call represents a greater opportunity than that for which they were seeking. They ought to realize that the only really valuable thing which they can do, is the thing which the war department has planned—enlistment in existing organizations.

The trip to the border has been pronounced well worth any man's time. Here is the chance of lifetime to see the country, gain experience and physical development, and serve your country.

Downes, of Boston, in the chair. Today's proceedings consisted chiefly in the welcome of the visitors and the preliminary work of organization. The annual reports to be presented during the week show the affairs of the order to be in a flourishing condition. The total membership is now close to the 500,000 mark, divided among more than 5,000 subordinate branches. Since the beginning of the order more than $25,000,000 has been disbursed in benefits. At the present session Judge Thomas H. Jeffries, of Amana, now Great Senior Sagamore, will be elevated to the office of Great Inebornee, or supreme head of the order.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with puffy or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-checked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a tea-spoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

In connection with the meeting there will be a big industrial exhibition of machine tools and foundry and metal-working equipment.

"THE LOVE TRAIL"

A thrilling story of frontier life with love interest throughout the five acts is told by "The Love Trail." "The Love Trail" is from the celebrated novel by Richard Duhan. The setting of the story is in South Africa during the Boer war. With the death of her parents, Lynette was thrown into the hands of an unscrupulous tavern keeper. Despite her humble surroundings she grew into beautiful womanhood, finally fleeing to escape the sordid life of her master.

She wandered around the veldt for hours until, hungry and exhausted she sank into slumber. A group of men found her and took her to their convent. There she was educated and mothered by the only friends she had ever known since her parent's death.

War broke out and the town was garrisoned by British troops. She met Lord Beauvayse who came to order the evacuation of the convent. He wooed and won, first obtaining the sanction of the nuns. In that town lived a ruin of a man named Dr. Owen Saxham. His reputation for drink earned for him the title of "The Dope Doctor." His evil instincts were conquered by his love for the beautiful Lynette and so after the death of Beauvayse, who it develops was already married, Lynette and "The Dope Doctor" were betrothed. Mr. Fred Paul distinguishes himself in his portrayal of the doctor.

WILLIAM S. HART IN "THE PRIMAL LURE."

Tonight at the Opera House, Triangle pictures present the popular actor, Wm. S. Hart, in a story of the early days of Alaska. Hart plays the part of Angus McConnell, the factor of the trading post, and is the guardian of the camp. He has many thrilling experiences with the bad men and Indians, but the one that causes him the most unrest is with Lois Le Moyne a fair daughter of the North, who is madly in love with the stern Angus. His books have been tampered with and while watching for the one who did the deed, catches Lois in his office, without any apparent reason for being there and concludes that she is the one who made the false entries. He does not know that she was there to place on his desk a present that she had made for him, so puts her into the jail. One of the thrilling scenes is Hart's fight with an Indian in a swift running mountain stream. The camera shows the fight above and beneath the water.

Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—President Wilson accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and Secretary Tumulty left the summer White House at 9:00 a. m. today for New London, Conn., to see the President's only sister, Mrs. Annie E. Howe who is seriously ill. The trip to New York was made by motor. The President plans to catch a train at 1:00 p. m. for New London. He has canceled all engagements for the next few days and his stay will be indefinite. The President and Mrs. Howe always had great affection for each other. Before the President's marriage to Mrs. Galt, Mrs. Howe spent much of her time with President Wilson paying frequent visits to the White House. She spent last summer with the President at Cornish, N. H.

Wilson off For Visit To Sister Who Is Ill

Will Then go to New London to Confer with Mexican Commission

Montreal, Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—The central span of the Quebec bridge under construction for many years and which will link the Canadian transcontinental railway system from Halifax to Vancouver fell as it was being placed in position. An estimator in the employ of the engineering company in charge this afternoon stated that the death toll would total 25. The span which weighs 5000 tons when being hoisted by special apparatus began toppling on its side and fell 15 feet in the river. The placing of the span is one of the engineering feats of the world and a commission representing Great Britain, Germany and the United States worked out the plans. In 1907 seventy were killed when a portion of the structure collapsed. Ninety men were on the bridge when the northern bender gave way. Some jacks held a few seconds and then the span gave way splashing into the channel. As the St. Lawrence river is but 200 feet wide at this point it will block and impede the traffic. Arrangements have been made to send divers down to ascertain if it will be possible to raise the span and also to find if the channel has been blocked.

Plans For Big Strike In N. Y. Under Way

Gompers Closed at Continental Hotel with Union Leaders

New York, Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—The attempt of New York Traction company to cut unionism is in direct opposition to the eight hour day recently passed by congress to settle the railroad strike, a statement by the Amalgamated Association of Carmen charges today. "Capital does not intend putting the legislative measure on the statute books," the statement declares. "The New York Traction company by organized capital has the same financial backing as the railroads of the country. The attempt to cut unionism is the first step in a great fight against organized labor." Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor was closeted in his room at the Continental hotel today with union leaders. Plans for a general sympathy strike which would call 800,000 workers and paralyze this city was still under discussion.

QUEBEC BRIDGE OVER ST. LAWRENCE RIVER FALLS KILLING 25

Repeats Trick of 1907 When
It Crashed Into River During Its Building.

This Time a Commission of German
Canadian and American Engineers
Made Specifications but they fail to Stand the Strain.

Quebec, Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—Twenty-five men were plunged to their deaths when the central span of the $17,000 Cantilever-Quebec bridge over the St. Lawrence gave way today just as it was being placed into position completed one of the greatest engineering feats of the world. Thousands of spectators had gathered to witness the completion of the bridge, including cabinet and parliament members. First reports were that the entire ninety men who were on the bridge had perished. The St. Lawrence Bridge Company, contractors announced, however, that only twenty-five had been killed. Only five or six survivors who were down have been picked up.

The work of transformation and regeneration starts at the main entrance and extends to the farthest nook and corner of the immense grove flanking the race track. The entrance has been changed, the ticket office being located on the east side of the driveway and as a result there of the entrance for pedestrians will be on that side of Park street instead of the west side as heretofore. This was a much needed change and relieves the possibility of accident, as those entering the park will continue around on the footwalk paralleling the track fence and as the driveway has been moved to the west side of the entrance there will be no occasion for crossing the driveway and the usual congestion and danger at the entrance will be avoided.

The driveway has been extended around through the park, entering the grove above the present white house or exhibition building and extending down opposite the grand stand and from thence out through the section in the rear devoted to the animal exhibits into McBride street and thence to Turnpike avenue. This driveway and the grounds generally will be brilliantly lighted by electricity and the park will present a pleasing sight at night.

The present exhibition building will be utilized for the display of fruits, etc., and the secretary is authority for the statement that it will be the finest display ever shown here.

SUSPECTS IN HOLDUP ARRESTED

Martins Ferry, O., Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—Harry Baldine arrested as a suspect following the killing of Lee Rankin, mine paymaster and then released for lack of evidence was rearrested and held on the charge of murder today. After his release police say he immediately returned to the box containing $8070 where it was placed after the hold-up. Guards watched the box for a possible return of the bandits. The police say that Baldine went directly to the money when he was released. Another suspect, Joseph Sabine was arrested in Shadyside.

REDISTRIBUTION OF MEXICAN LAND

New London, Conn., Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—Redistribution of land throughout Mexico was the subject discussed by the Mexican-American commission today. The Carranza envoy said that this plan would discourage bandits and would require less military protection along the border.

Driveways Changed and so Many Alterations Made That You Will
Not Know The Place

GROUND WILL BE BRILLIANTLY
ILLUMINATED AT NIGHT

Clearfield's big County Fair opens tomorrow with a grand flourish and visitors to the fair grounds who remember the dilapidated and unkempt condition of the ground for the past ten or twelve years will be more than agreeably surprised at the marvelous transformation worked by the busy gang of men employed there since the park was taken over by its present owners some three or four weeks ago.

The committee in charge has left nothing undone and spared no expense to get the grounds in shape for this exhibition and the success of their efforts will be appreciated by all who attend the fair.

The number of horses, cattle and other animals already listed for exhibition has greatly exceeded the expectations of the management and made necessary the employment of more than 50 men practically night and day the past three weeks to get these buildings in shape, but the management was equal to the occasion and this feature of the fair will amply repay the visitor for the time taken in looking it over.

The park has been generally cleaned up and renovated. Stones and stumps have been removed, many trees cut out of the beautiful grove, in fact the whole place has been transformed already into what we long have claimed it to be—the prettiest fair grounds in Central Pennsylvania and the work has just begun. It was the intention of the management to pipe drinking water throughout the grounds but it was found impossible to do this at this time and the huge spring was thoroughly cleaned out and a pump placed therein and their will be no lack of good pure, wholesome drinking water.

Those in charge have labored hard to get everything in readiness for this opening exhibition. They have done remarkably well under the circumstances and will give their patrons a good clean program of amusements and it is up to our people as loyal Clearfielders to give them every support, not only in the way of attendance, but in encouragement, and endorsement in their every effort to make Clearfield's big County Fair what it should be—the best county fair in this section. They will do it too, with your help.

Commissioners Take Issue With Short-- Ask For Details

Sensational Developments If Editor of Clearfield Republican Can Make Good His Claims.

COUNTY OFFICIALS INVITE INVESTIGATION

The Clearfield Republican has been thought to be of service to the public. We, therefore, call upon you to give us any information which you may have that amounts to proof or which has been made against the commissioners, and they have been held up as inefficient, extravagant and incompetent.

Last week the Republican had a long article in which it is stated its various attacks were not intended as personal, but were directed against the "system." It intimated that an investigation would disclose that the county has suffered much unnecessary taxation as a result of the extravagance and loose methods. It says "that taxpayers are liable to become indignant when they get a glimpse of the indisputable evidence of various classes of household and personal supplies being charged to the county and poor funds, which never arrive at the charged-for destination." This is not a direct charge of crookedness, but the implication is quite plain.

Further on the Republican article states: "Taxpayers are liable to become wrathful when they stumble onto unquestionable evidences of downright graft being practiced in the furnishing of supplies to the county and the county home."

The board of county commissioners are tired of these intimations of graft, although the charge is not made directly against them, and they have called upon Editor Short to show his hand. They have issued a statement in which they ask his co-operation in uncovering any extravagance, graft, or loose methods being practiced. The statement is as follows:

September 8, 1916.
Editor Clearfield Republican,
Clearfield, Pa.

Dear Sir:
If the statement contained in your editorial, in your issue of Clearfield Republican of September 8th is true, and you desire to co-operate with us in exposing the mismanagement of the Commissioners' office, we together

NEW ARGENTINE PRESIDENT NOT A SOCIAL SUCCESS

Buenos Aires, August 15.—(By Mail)—Hipolito Irigoyen, who will become president of Argentina on October 12, may prove to be a political success but there is no indication that he will be a success socially.

The Argentinians expect their presidents elect, their presidents and ex-presidents to show themselves in aristocratic circles, to give big balls and receptions and generally to add to the gaiety of the capital. President-elect Irigoyen has been a terrible disappointment in this respect.

But for one short visit to Buenos Aires in July, he has remained shut up like a hermit in his ranch house in the country ever since his election. The people are anxious to see him. Pictures of him have been printed but everyone knows they are fakes because there isn't a picture of Irigoyen in existence.

The new president's friends excuse him on the ground that he is a prey to a terrible anxiety at the idea of becoming president. He is said to believe that South America, including his own country, will face a tremendous financial crisis when the war ends and to fear that he will be considered a failure. As he is Argentina's first radical president, it would be a party as well as a personal calamity to him.

SHOULD BALDHEADED BARBERS SELL CURE FOR BALDNESS?

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—Why should a baldheaded barber attempt to induce a baldheaded customer to use a sure cure for baldness?

This is one of the questions that will come before the state convention of barbers which started here today. All the baldheaded barbers in Illinois, including those with tapered and switches will be called upon to answer. Some of the better known baldheaded customers also will be asked in to answer.

EMPLOYING PRINTERS MEET.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 9.—Representing the printing industry of the entire country, delegates to the annual convention of the United Typographical Union of America are assembling in Atlantic City today. The high cost and scarcity of paper is the big problem to receive the attention of the association at its business sessions, beginning Monday. Aside from the paper question, the printers are inclined to take a rosier view of the conditions in general in their trade. Business is good, they say, and labor troubles are scarce.

FROM THE DUBOIS COURIER.

Clearfield has arranged for a fair that will appeal to the multitudes. The exhibits promise to be away above the ordinary, the races are going to be hotly contested, and the free attractions are above par. The indications are most favorable for a large attendance from this end of the county.

NO PANIC

The people of Clearfield are to be congratulated on not letting the infantile paralysis scare affect them to the point of being panic stricken. It is all very well to exercise the ordinary precautions against the spread of the disease but so long as so little is known as to the means of the transmission of the disease there is little use worrying over the fear of catching it.

LET US ALL GO.

The Chief Executive of this great Commonwealth will visit this town tomorrow evening and it will be the privilege of every man, woman and child in this community to see him and hear him speak. His visit will have no political significance as he comes in the interest of agriculture and good roads which is an adjunct of agriculture. Anybody not availing themselves of the privilege of seeing and hearing Governor Brumbaugh will be missing a great treat.

A DANGEROUS SPOT.

Owners of horses are righteously indignant over the condition of South Second street. There is hardly a horse in town that has not fallen down on the piece of the street that was only recently treated to a coat of covering. The worst place in it is from the residence of George Dimeling up to Pooler's store. This morning five horses fell down on it and one at the time was thought to be severely hurt. The greatest of care should be exercised by drivers on this piece of street until the condition is remedied. Needless to say, something should be done at once to put the surface of the street in a safe condition.

WILSON WOULD FINANCE CARRANZA.

President Wilson is most anxious to finance Carranza if not by the payment of $200,000,000 as an indemnity, at least by effecting a loan from American bankers to the Carranza faction. Fortunately, there is no machinery whereby the President can loan funds in the Treasury to a foreign government or faction, or even sell United States bonds to raise money to loan. Mr. Wilson has, therefore, instructed his Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Lane, to attempt to induce American bankers to loan Carranza $150,000,000. The bankers are wholly unwilling to make such a loan unless the United States will guarantee its repayment. Mexico's bonded debt now amounts to over $500,000,000 gold, and there is outstanding a fiat currency in excess of $300,000,000. Of course, if Mr. Wilson can devise a method whereby he can obligate this government to stand back of the loan the bankers will cheerfully make it, but not otherwise. So far as can be seen now, the only method which could be employed would be to scale Carranza's demand for an indemnity from $200,000,000 down to $150,000,000, the amount of the desired loan, and then, instead of asking Congress to appropriate $150,000,000 to be paid over to Carranza, to have Carranza assign his claim against the United States after its approval by the New London conference and President Wilson, to the bankers as security for a like sum to be loaned to Carranza. While admitting that efforts are being made to finance the Carranza faction, Secretary Lane declines to furnish any details.

Robert Barber, son of Rev. Samuel Barber, who graduated at the High school here some years ago and afterwards went to a Missouri college, and studied for the ministry, is now in charge of a Presbyterian congregation in Centre county and is meeting with considerable success in his chosen profession.

The Curwensville contingent who attended the big dance at the Dixie hotel last Friday evening, and whom the correspondent inadvertently neglected to chronicle at the proper time, were Messrs. Daniel Irvin, Clarence Ammerman, James Maxwell and Messrs. Minam Dyer, Mirand Karstetter and Alvin Blake.

Relatives of James Dumbilton, a resident of Philipsburg, who reside in this place, were notified yesterday morning of his death. His age was 77 years. His daughter, Mrs. A. G. One of the best informed young correspondents did not feel it enough to say on her to stand in her way, but she had the chance of bettering her financial condition.
